Mr. Don Thompson President and Chief Executive Officer McDonald's Corporation 2111 McDonald's Dr. Oak Brook, IL, 60523

Dear Mr. Thompson,

As advocates for children and public health, we were extremely interested in your remarks at the 2014 Annual Shareholders Meeting. In response to a question about how McDonald's markets to children, you said, "we don't put Ronald out in schools" and "in schools and our restaurants you never see Ronald McDonald." You listed exceptions to the policy in restaurants, but not in schools.

We were so pleased that you rightly recognized that schools should be off-limits to commercial advertising and branding. Over the past several years, Ronald McDonald has been a regular visitor to preschools and elementary schools in the United States, Brazil, and countries around the world. These visits, which were supposedly designed to inspire physical activity, literacy, and pro-social skills, promoted McDonald's to a captive audience of schoolchildren through exposure to, and interaction with, the brand's most powerful icon.

Based on your remarks, we believed that McDonald's new policy was to no longer send Ronald McDonald into schools. Now, however, we are confused.

On July 11, 2014 Heidi Barker Sa Shekhem, your Vice President of Corporate Relations, sent an email to Campaign for Commercial-Free Childhood in response to a draft of a letter intended for you that was circulating internationally among organizations that care about children. Ms. Barker Sa Shekhem stated we "incorrectly" deduced that "comments made by our CEO Don Thompson at our Annual Meeting reflect a new 'policy' regarding Ronald McDonald."

Ms. Barker Sa Shekhem went on to say:

To be clear, there is no new policy regarding Ronald McDonald. Mr. Thompson was correct in stating that "we don't put Ronald out in schools." Obviously, only schools or affiliated groups manage their invited guests. When invited to schools by administrations, or affiliated organizations such as parent-teacher groups,

Ronald McDonald presents programs about bike safety, literacy or other children's well-being matters.

This would appear to contradict your strong assertion that "you never see Ronald McDonald" in schools. If Ronald McDonald does still appear in schools, why are you telling stockholders that he doesn't? If your assertion is accurate, then is there perhaps a new policy of which Ms. Barker Sa Shekhem is unaware?

If that's the case—and in the best interest of children, we hope that it is—please answer the following questions about how this new policy is being implemented:

- 1. Will you publicly post your new policy regarding Ronald McDonald's in-school visits, that is, that Ronald McDonald does not go to schools? Will you update your pledge with the Council of Better Business Bureaus Children's Food and Beverage Advertising Initiative² to reflect this new policy?
- 2. Ronald McDonald visits to elementary and preschools have occurred not only in the United States,³ but in other countries including Brazil,⁴ China,⁵ Australia,⁶ and The Netherlands.⁷ Does your new policy prohibiting Ronald McDonald visits to schools apply worldwide?
- 3. In response to criticisms of other McDonald's in-school marketing programs, spokespeople for your company have said the programs were "local decisions." How was McDonald's new policy communicated to local franchises and regional marketing associations? Are you aware that several local and regional McDonald's websites are still promoting Ronald McDonald's availability for school visits?
- 4. If parents or educators are aware of Ronald McDonald school visits, to whom should they report the violation of McDonald's policy?

If you are accurate that Ronald McDonald is never seen in schools, we would applaud McDonald's decision to end the exploitative practice of using him to market to children
